

General Guidelines for Course Selection

Please note: for details regarding all requirements, please consult the student handbook. This summary is to provide simple guidance for students.

1. Students need 90 credits to graduate.
2. The following courses are required of all students:

Course	Credits	Minimum Passing Grade
Applied Legal Theory and Analysis I	3	1.5
Applied Legal Theory and Analysis II	4	1.5
Civil Procedure	4	2.2
Contracts I	3	2.2
Contracts II	3	2.2
Criminal Law	3	2.2
Property I	3	2.2
Property II	3	2.2
Torts	4	2.2
Evidence	4	2.2
U.S. Constitutional Law	4	2.2
Professional Responsibility	3	1.5

3. All students are required to take the following: a course that satisfies the Upper Level Writing Requirement, a Clinic course, a Law Firm Program course, and a course that satisfies the global requirement.
4. Students who finish their first two semesters of study with a cumulative GPA of less than 2.8 are required to take the following courses: Business Organizations, Criminal Procedure: Investigations, Estates & Trusts, and Sales.
5. Those students who have completed two semesters of study will be enrolled in U.S. Constitutional Law in Fall 2022 and Professional Responsibility in Winter 2023.
6. Students must take Evidence in the first 60 credit hours of their studies.
7. Students should not take more than two 4-credit courses in one semester.
8. Students should take notice of the final exam schedule when selecting courses. Final exams may only be changed if two exams are given at the same day and time or if a student has three exams scheduled on two consecutive days.

9. The clinics and law firm courses are designed to be capstone courses. Students will get the most benefit from these courses if they wait until the second half of their course of study to take them.

10. Students should attend the advising session or watch the recording before registering. Students may also ask for individual appointments with Dean Henning or Dean Khan to talk about their scheduling options.
